READY FOR VIENNESE

Local Singers Perfect Arrangements for Visitors.

RECEPTION IN THE EAST ROOM

Distinguished Citizens Invited to Meet Austrians at Reception in New Willard—Will Sing for Charity in New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore—To Present Loving Cup.

Arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the Wiener Maennergesang Verein on the occasion of their "Saengerfahrt" in this country and appearance in German song before President Roosevelt next Monday afternoon, and their subsequent entertainment by the Washington Saengerbund at the New Willard Hotel, have been completed, and all indications point to a highly successful culmination of this unique affair.

The Viennese are expected to arrive in New York either to-morrow or Sunday, where they will be received by the Liederkranz, and entertained at the Hotel Savoy. They will leave for this city Monday morning, and are expected to arrive at the Pennsylvania depot at 1 p. m.

They will be greeted upon their arrival in this city by people of their own tongue and nationality. The Saengerbund singing section, the Germania Maennerchor, the Arion Gesang Verein, and the Central Verein, including over twenty German-American societies, will be on hand with banners flying and songs of welcome.

Trip to the White House.
The visitors will enter carriages, each vehicle containing a member of one of the local societies to explain the sights of the city. Directly after their arrival they will be driven to the Capitol and Library of Congress, and after a roundtrip through the Capitol parkings, the trip to the White House, up Pennsylvania avenue, will begin, with the twenty-five flags of the various societies of the German Central Verein in line.

On account of the large number of visiting guests and the limited space of the East Room, where the Wiener singers will offer their song tribute to the President of the United States, it will not be possible to make arrangements for the presence at this function of the members of the local societies.

Reception at the New Willard.
After having accomplished the purpose of their journey to this country and city—to sing before the President of the United States—and after having been introduced to the President and his handshakes, the singers will again enter their carriages for another short sightseeing trip in the neighborhood of the White House, after which they will proceed to the New Willard Hotel. At this place a hearty repast will await the singing minstrels, and after having refreshed themselves, it is expected and hoped they will favor their hosts with one or two songs.

On account of the significance of the ovation to the President, it has been deemed proper by the committee in charge to extend an invitation to meet the distinguished foreigners at the reception at the New Willard to the Justices of the United States Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps, the members of the President's Cabinet, the Commissioners of the District, the Librarian of Congress, the editors of the local papers, and managers of the various press associations.

Presentation of Loving Cup.
Frank Claudy, honorary president of the Saengerbund and poet laureate, will read an original poem, and George W. Spier, chairman of the general committee in the name of the Saengerbund will present to the visiting delegation of singers as a souvenir of their visit and as a token of their love and esteem, a silver loving cup, bearing suitable inscriptions. The cup is of solid hammered silver, and stands eighteen inches high. The design of the cup is based on the German oak—an emblem of strength and beauty. The approximate cost of the cup is $60, and is a specimen of the silverware art. A picture of the cup and a copy of Mr. Claudy's poem will be distributed during the festivities at the New Willard. At 6 o'clock the visitors will be escorted to the Pennsylvania depot, where they will depart for New York.

Programme in Other Cities.
On Tuesday they will give a charity concert at Carnegie Hall, and at its conclusion they will be the guests of the Oesterreichische Gesellschaft at a banquet at the Astor Hotel. Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to seeing the sights of the great metropolis, and on Thursday evening a second charity concert will be given at the Carnegie Hall, to be followed by a "Commerz" to be given in their honor by the Arion Society, of New York. Friday the Viennese will sing for charity in Philadelphia, to be followed by a reception given by the mayor of the City of Brotherly Love at the City Hall. Their next appearance will be in Baltimore on Saturday. A luncheon at the Pimlico Club and a "Commerz" at the Hotel Belvedere comprise the social features of their visit to Baltimore. Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and Milwaukee will be visited in rotation, and wherever admission is charged to their concerts, the proceeds will be devoted to charity. Unless their present programme will undergo changes, the visitors expect to start on their return trip two weeks from this Sunday.

Chairman Spier has called a special general meeting at the Saengerbund Hall for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, extending a cordial invitation to every member.

FINDS POLICIES IN FAVOR.
President of League Clubs Says New Yorkers Support Roosevelt.

John A. Stewart, president of the League of Republican Clubs of New York, who sent out the letter among the voters asking for views as to the Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt sentiment in the several assembly districts of the State, called on the President yesterday afternoon.

He said he came to talk business, not politics.
Mr. Stewart said that about 3,500 copies of the league's letter were sent out. They covered every assembly district, and the number of copies sent to each was governed by the size of the district. He said that 2,128 replies had been received.
"There was among all these replies," said Mr. Stewart, "no expression of belief that the President would accept another nomination. It seems to be taken for granted that the President will not run again. As to the question of instructed or noninstructed delegates to the Republican National Convention, the sentiment seems to be in favor of an uninstructed delegation. Judging by the replies received, nine out of every ten voters in the State are for the perpetuation of the Roosevelt policies, and one-tenth of the total, who are anti-Roosevelt, are men who either belonged to the old political organization in the State or who are identified with high finance."

MASONIC FAIR ENDS

Grand Ball Marks Close of Successful Event.

ABOUT $70,000 WAS CLEARED

Will Net Over $12,000 More Than Fair of 1902—Remarkable Transformation of Scene in Convention Hall—No Suggestion of Terrible Scramble for Coin of the Realm.

Not since the inaugural ball has Washington viewed a more brilliant scene than that which was displayed in Convention Hall last night at the promenade concert and ball which marked the close of the Masonic fair.

The same women, who only the night before had been foremost in the wild scramble for the elusive checkers, appeared last night, sedate and exclusive, in low gowns and satin slippers, and would, no doubt, have blushed, or have been righteously indignant at the mere thought of anything so material as money.

Scene a Wonderful Contrast.
In distinct contrast to the occurrences of the preceding two weeks, it was the men who last night were forced to seek out the women and fill their dance cards without fear of being asked for money, although several gentlemen were seen to turn pale when ladies handed them their cards with the shy smile and alluring smile which they used so effectively in raising money for the Temple.

The scene was entirely changed from what it had been during the fair. Overhead the gigantic Stars and Stripes remained, and in the background a decorated refreshment booth showed itself here and there, but all else had disappeared in a day, and left a splendid ballroom. In the middle of the auditorium the draped handstand made a gorgeous center, about which revolved the dancers.

Silver Hairs Tread Measures.
It was not alone the young folks who tripped lightly and wended their way daintily through the mystic intricacies of the figures. Thirty-third degree Masons, with silver hair, and other gentry of the past generation, to whom the practice of the terpsichorean art had become almost a memory, renewed their youth and pirouetted with the almightiest.

In the Grand March Line.
A grand march headed by B. F. Smith, president of the board of control, began the programme. With Mrs. Smith on his arm, he made a circuit of the hall, followed by 900 couples, among whom were most of the men and women who have labored so hard and so successfully for the erection of the temple. In the procession were B. F. Smith and wife, L. R. Ginn and wife, Jacobus S. Jones, Frank A. Sebring and wife, Frank R. Underwood and wife, George B. Ostermayer and wife, James A. Sample and wife, Creed M. Fulton and daughter, Harry Standiford, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnson, J. Henry Small, Arthur C. Moser, Robert N. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra D. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Towers, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Hylas T. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jermaine, Mrs. and Mrs. Milton E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Fulkerson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Gibson, Miss M. Grace, Miss Violetta Pickeral, Miss Etta Austin, Mrs. John Handerson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartlett, Mrs. Arthur Hudson, Bailey Small, Miss Carrie Lewis, and Mr. Clarence Rochester.

President Smith was probably the happiest man on the scene last night as he rubbed his hands in joyous anticipation of a money-counting, and made the following statement: "I am certain that the fair will net close on to $70,000, a trifle over $12,000 more than the fair of 1902."
